This Week’s Questions

• Code Upgrade / Extended Replacement
• Buy or Rebuild
• Insurance Code Section 2051.5
• Contents Inventory/ Itemization
• Insurance on non-existent property
• Additional Living Expenses
Almost every one of the questions I get involves some part of this newly-clarified legislation

- Replacement Cost
- Additional Living Expenses
- Extended Replacement Coverage
- Code Upgrade
- Buy or rebuild?
Determining Coverage A - Dwelling

• 2051.5

• (a) (1) Under an open policy that requires payment of the replacement cost for a loss, the measure of indemnity is the amount that it would cost the insured to repair, rebuild, or replace the thing lost or injured, without a deduction for physical depreciation, or the policy limit, whichever is less.
What does this mean???

• The amount you are owed is based upon the cost to rebuild the home you LOST, plus code upgrades, up to the policy limit.

• In most cases, you will need an estimate to determine what it would have cost to rebuild your prior home, even if you do not intend to rebuild it.
• 2051.5

(c) In the event of a total loss of the insured structure, no policy issued or delivered in this state may contain a provision that limits or denies payment of the replacement cost in the event the insured decides to rebuild or replace the property at a location other than the insured premises. However, the measure of indemnity shall be based upon the replacement cost of the insured property and shall not be based upon the cost to repair, rebuild, or replace at a location other than the insured premises.
• 2051.5 (c) In the event of a total loss of the insured structure, a policy issued or delivered in this state shall not contain a provision that limits or denies, on the basis that the insured has decided to rebuild at a new location or to purchase an already built home at a new location, payment of the building code upgrade cost or the replacement cost, including any extended replacement cost coverage, to the extent those costs are otherwise covered by the terms of the policy or any policy endorsement. However, the measure of indemnity shall not exceed the replacement cost, including the building code upgrade cost and any extended replacement cost coverage, if applicable, to repair, rebuild, or replace the insured structure at its original location.
What’s Included in Code Upgrades?

• As always, read your policy, as the language varies.
• In general, this coverage pays the amount to bring THE HOME YOU LOST up to current building codes, up to available limits.
• This means things that were not there, but will need to be added in order to gain occupancy after rebuilding. i.e. sprinklers, solar, energy efficiency upgrades, etc.
• The cost can be “rolled into” purchase and upgrading of a new house, but the amount is determined by the old house.
• This coverage is usually paid “as incurred” (meaning $ is spent) but insurer has discretion.
• Often, you have to show that the city/county will enforce the codes in order to get payment.
Buying vs. Rebuilding

• The process is almost identical for all the different options (rebuild/buy/codes)
• The most important thing: KNOW HOW MUCH IT WOULD COST TO REBUILD THE HOUSE YOU LOST up to the policy limits.
• If buying you will also need a CODE BID for the house you lost, NOT the new one!
• If you were paid the full policy limits you will most likely not need an estimate

Contents Inventory Questions

• Some insurers are waiving inventory requirements. This is VOLUNTARY
• Most insurers are paying a % up front
• Requiring full inventory for balance of $$$
• We recommend asking for help:
  – Some companies hire contents companies
  – Some companies will send an adjuster to you to review inventory
  – As last resort you can hire your own
  – Ask for an extension of time
DEPRECIATION

- Depreciation Basics publication: https://www.uphelp.org/pubs/depreciation-basics
- Replacement cost v. Actual Cash Value
- Depreciation is highly negotiable
- Under California law it is based upon the age, life expectancy and condition of each individual item
- Couch example – grandma’s vs. fraternity house
- Many items should not be subject to any depreciation. Antiques, fine art and jewelry, computer media (CD’s, etc.), software, framing, masonry, concrete, insulation, light fixtures.
Why Pay for Insurance?

- Availability is becoming an issue, especially in fire-prone area = less choice
- Need to compare both COST and coverages
- Changing insurers will NOT affect your claim
- Liability coverage needed
- Contact your agent/broker about reducing amount of coverage
(2) In the event of a covered loss relating to a state of emergency, as defined in Section 8558 of the Government Code, coverage for additional living expenses shall be for a period of 24 months, but shall be subject to other policy provisions, provided that any extension of time required by this paragraph beyond the period provided in the policy shall not act to increase the additional living expense policy limit in force at the time of the loss. This paragraph shall become operative on January 1, 2007.
(2) In the event of a covered loss relating to a state of emergency, as defined in Section 8558 of the Government Code, coverage for additional living expenses shall be for a period of no less than 24 months from the inception of the loss, but shall be subject to other policy provisions. An insurer shall grant an extension of up to 12 additional months, for a total of 36 months, if an insured acting in good faith and with reasonable diligence encounters a delay or delays in the reconstruction process that are the result of circumstances beyond the control of the insured. Circumstances beyond the control of the insured include, but are not limited to, unavoidable construction permit delays, lack of necessary construction materials, and lack of available contractors to perform the necessary work. Additional extensions of six months shall be provided to policyholders for good cause.

Effective September 21, 2018
Is it Automatic?

• No. The amount you are owed is generally the shortest time required to rebuild, replace or for your household to settle elsewhere.

• In most cases, you will need to show that you were acting with “reasonable diligence” in rebuilding or buying. Keep a diary of your obstacles to show carrier. Write to them about your decision making process on buying v. rebuilding.
Claim Handling Standards

- California Fair Claims Settlement Practices Act
  - 15 days to respond to communications
    - Email, letter, phone call
  - 40 days to pay or deny claim
  - If unable to make decision must send letter
    - What they need to make a decision
    - How long they need to make the decision
    - Send letter every 30 days
Best Practices

• Get it in WRITING!
• If not, put it in writing, back to them confirming
• Keep it professional
• Be concise and to the point
• Bold or bullet point your requests
• Use proper grammar and punctuation
• Promptly respond to letters and reasonable requests
• Avoid venting frustrations and emotions to your adjuster
